EXPLORE TORONTO'S URBAN WILDERNESS, SPOT A HAWK, BUILD A BIRD BOX
October 4th is the Harvest Festival in High Park

Each Fall, the High Park Harvest Festival gives Torontonians an opportunity to get outside and explore the city's unique urban wilderness at a fun-filled, activity-packed fair that will appeal to all ages. Find out about conserving biodiversity, improving habitats for birds, protecting wetlands and fighting climate change at this event hosted by City of Toronto's Colborne Lodge historic house museum, with The Children's Garden, Toronto Parks, Forestry and Recreation High Park Community Advisory Council, Grenadier Café and Tea House and this year Ontario Nature and OPG Biodiversity 2009

WHEN: Sunday, October 4, 2009 12 p.m.-4:30 p.m.

WHAT: "High Park Harvest Festival"

- Music, storytelling, wagon rides, face painting, nature crafts and activities
- Climb Hawk Hill to view the fall hawk migration
- See Birds of Prey presented by Wildlife Education & Environmental Programs (WEEP), University of Guelph
- Harvest foods and vendors
- Tours of historic Colborne Lodge for pay-what-you-can admission

WHERE: High Park, 1873 Bloor St West, Toronto. Colborne Lodge Entrance.

By TTC: Bloor/Danforth subway line to High Park station and walk south through High Park (approximately 20 minutes). Or the 501 streetcar (Humber/Long Branch) to Colborne Lodge Drive and walk a short distance up the road to the Lodge.

OPG Biodiversity 2009 is a series of province-wide conservation-focused, family-friendly action and education events sponsored by Ontario Power Generation (OPG) in partnership with Ontario Nature, LEAF (Local Enhancement and Appreciation of Forests) and the Bruce Trail Conservancy. Its goal is to get people involved in protecting and conserving biodiversity in our urban parklands and forest ecosystems. Biodiversity 2009 builds on OPG's commitment to conserving, sustaining and protecting nature.
