Twelve Mile Creek levels to fluctuate Tuesday
Stay Clear and Stay Safe

Water levels and flows on Twelve Mile Creek will be reduced to zero flow on Tuesday starting at 5 a.m. so that maintenance in preparation for winter can be performed on Ontario Power Generation's (OPG) Decew Generating Station.

People are asked to stay clear of the creek and surrounding areas as water levels and flows on all rivers and streams can change quickly and without notice, so Stay Clear! Stay Safe! OPG security personnel conduct regular patrols of the areas and will instruct people to leave if they are near the creek.
